

The Oregon Area Historical Society presents

Dorothy Marcic, author of “With One Shot—Family Murder and a Search for Justice,” who will speak about her book and answer questions.

Suzanne Brandon's obituary in the Minneapolis Star Tribune describes her as a “devoted wife” who “overcame many obstacles.” But what it leaves out is that she's the confessed killer of her fourth husband LaVerne Stordock—and that she profited from an unusual number of mysterious deaths, usually those of family members. In fact, author Dorothy Marcic suspects that Suzanne could be a rare female serial killer.

In her new book, Dorothy, who is LaVerne Stordock's niece, wants to set the story straight about the 1970 murder in Oregon, Wisconsin of her “Uncle Vernie,” and find justice for the murder that has affected her family for decades.

“A rapid-fire, real-life thriller.”
—New York Times bestselling author M. William Phelps
